

Memorial Day Parade The Shriners are coming

ALEPPO TEMPLE NEWS: Telling the Town Manager and selectmen of the hoped for move to Wilmington:

From left: Edward Borenstein, captain of the Motor Patrol; Will Lombard, Past Potentate and Legal Counsel; Phil Turner, Treasurer; Ed

Johnston, Assistant Rabban, and soon to be the Potentate; Frank Staples, Chief Rabban; Harvey Waugh, Assistant Recorder; Frank Dardeno, Cambridge attorney and associate of Leo Barbo; and Leo Barbo, developer of the Fordham Road area of Wilmington.

Aleppo Temple No. 13, of the Shriners, is hoping to make Wilmington its home. The Boston based organization has not yet voted, and will not until June, but all arrangements have been made for a move to Wilmington. If they do move, Temple No. 13 will be getting off Route 93 at Exit 13, which, it is said, is 13 miles from Boston.

The Town Manager and selectmen were informed of the plans, recently, by officers of the organization and by Leonard Barbo, who is selling them land off Fordham Road.

The Shriners are well known, among other things, for their hospitals which take care of patients who have serious burns.

There are several such hospitals in the United States and Canada, and the Shriners raise all the money needed for those hospitals.

Aleppo Temple, which has 14,279 members, is based on Boylston Street in Boston, and meets in the Commonwealth Armory. Because of coming changes they must leave that Armory.

Included in Aleppo Temple, as marching bands, are the Arab Patrol, the Mounted Patrol, the Motor Patrol, clowns, the Oriental Band, and the Provost Guard, the Minutemen, the Degree Staff, the Temple Guard, and a medical unit. There are 10 marching bands.

There will be several units, in the Memorial Day Parade, in Wilmington. Over 300 marchers from Aleppo Temple are to be expected.

TM asks for Solid Waste bids

Town Manager Sterling Morris has invited contractors to bid for the disposal of solid waste material, from Wilmington residents and from municipal buildings of Wilmington. The invitation to bid was issued Tuesday and bids will be opened in the Town Hall, on May 12.

The Town Manager is allowing for a number of proposals to be made. He terms the proposals alternates, and has listed them. The proposed contract is for three years, but his first alternate is for a different length of time, if convenient to the bidder who gets the contract. The alternates, so called, are:

- Contract duration.
- Operation of a transfer station, either on privately owned or town owned land. This is to be for the purpose of handling solid waste material to be trucked out of town.
- Operation of a sanitary landfill, on privately owned, or town owned land, to be approved by both the local and state governments.
- Pickup of solid wastes and disposal on private land or town owned land, in a sanitary landfill operation. Solid wastes are to be collected from the homes of Wilmington, and from the various buildings and schools owned by the town.
- Spot collection of solid waste. This is to be in bulk cubic yards, or compacted cubic yards, by the use of portable containers, and to be located on town owned land, or privately owned land. The solid waste is to be disposed of out of town.

f. Other proposals, as specified by the bidder.

The Town Manager is asking bidders to furnish a Performance Bond, of 50 per cent of the value of the contract for one year.

Senior Class Bloodmobile Wednesday

The Class of 1976 is making a farewell gift, to the people of Wilmington. The gift will be next Wednesday, in the High School gymnasium, when the bloodmobile, of the American Red Cross, will call to collect blood from volunteers.

By sponsoring the bloodmobile, the seniors will be giving the people of Wilmington an opportunity to participate in a life saving gift, for themselves, their families and their neighbors.

The bloodmobile will be in the High School gymnasium at 1 p.m. and will stay there until 7 p.m. The seniors are setting a high mark, for donors. They hope to get over 300.

OBITUARIES

Leo H. Crispo, Wilmington native

Leo H. Crispo of 278 Shawsheen Ave., Wilmington died enroute to Winchester Hospital on Thursday where he was being taken after being stricken ill at his residence.

Mr. Crispo, who was 59 years of age, was born in Wilmington, the son of the late Joseph J. and the late Mary A. (Blanchet) Crispo. He had been a life-long resident; had attended Wilmington schools and prior to retirement, had been associated with his brothers in the Crispo Bros. Plastering Co.

Mr. Crispo, who had served in the Military Police Command of the U.S. Army during World War II had been a prisoner of war in Sicily during the war.

He is survived by his two sisters, Miss Isabelle E. Crispo of Wilmington and Mrs. Louise E. Couture of Bradford; his five brothers, Anthony J., Ernest M., Charles N., George A., Sr. and Francis A. Crispo all of Wilmington. He was also the brother of the late Joseph A. Crispo.

The funeral was held from the W.S. Cavanaugh & Son Funeral Home, 374 Main St., Wilmington on Monday morning at 9:15 followed by a funeral mass at St. Dorothy's Church at 10 which was celebrated by his cousin, the Rev. John Crispo of St. Margaret's Church, Burlington. Burial took place in the family lot, Wildwood Cemetery.

Serving as pall bearers for Mr. Crispo were: David Crispo, Joseph Crispo, Robert Crispo, Dennis Crispo, Adrene Chase and Joseph Troy.

Dorris M. Hovey 35 years in Wilmington

Dorris M. (Grant) Hovey, a resident of 141 Glen Road, Wilmington for 35 years, passed away after a short illness at Choate Memorial Hospital on Thursday, April 22.

Born in Sherman, Maine, 74 years ago, Mrs. Hovey was the widow of William E. Hovey and the mother of Elwin (Red) Hovey of Wilmington, Gene R. Hovey of Northbrook, Illinois, Mrs. Joseph (Cappy) McCabe of North Reading, Mrs. Frank (Ruth) Yentile and Mrs. William (Eldora) True of Wilmington. Thirteen grandchildren and 12 great-grandchildren also survive. She was the sister of Mrs. Agnes Carmichael of Coscob, Conn., and Owen Grant of Sherman, Maine.

Funeral services were held at the Nichols Funeral Home, 187 Middlesex Ave., Wilmington on Monday at 10 a.m. with the Rev. Everett Reed of the First Baptist Church of Wilmington officiating. Burial took place in Wildwood Cemetery, Wilmington.

Funeral services for Marie E. Reynolds

Mrs. Marie E. Bradley Reynolds, of 87 McLaren Rd., Tewksbury died on Saturday at Choate Memorial Hospital following a prolonged illness.

Mrs. Reynolds, who was 78 years of age, was born in Salem, the daughter of the late Joseph and the late Laura M. (Duschene) Blaquiere. She had been a resident of Wilmington for over 32 years having lived on North Street prior to taking up residence in Tewksbury 18 months ago. She was a member of the Wilmington Golden Age Club and American Legion Post 136 Auxiliary.

Mrs. Reynolds was the wife of the late Herbert E. Reynolds and is survived by her two daughters, Mrs. Marie E. Dias of Wilmington and Mrs. Laura T. Pentz of Tewksbury; her four sons, Edward J. Bradley, Henry E. Bradley, Jr., Joseph R. Bradley all of Wilmington and Dennis J. Bradley of Tewksbury; her sister, Mrs. Mary Carty of Tewksbury and her four brothers, Maurice Blaquiere of Everett, Arthur Blaquiere of Brighton; Joseph and Frank Blaquiere of Tewksbury; also 22 grandchildren and 24 great-grandchildren.

The funeral was held from the W.S. Cavanaugh & Son Funeral Home, 374 Main St., Wilmington on Tuesday morning at 9:15 followed by a funeral mass at St. Thomas Church at 10, which was celebrated by the Rev. Father Charles Kinsella. Burial took place in the family lot, Wildwood Cemetery with the Rev. Francis W. Mackin offering the committal prayers.

Serving as pall bearers for Mrs. Reynolds were: Laurence Doucette, Jack Doucette, John Bradley, James Bradley, Tom Bradley and Dennis Bradley.

LeRoy Bedell services Friday in Marshfield

Memorial services are to be held tomorrow in the Trinity Episcopal Church in Marshfield, at 1:30 p.m. for LeRoy B. Bedell, former Wilmington insurance agent, and a long-time employee of the Boston & Maine RR.

Mr. Bedell, who was 80 years old last September died, on April 22, in St. Petersburg, Florida, where he made his winter home. Death was sudden, from a heart attack.

A life-long resident of Wilmington until his retirement in 1960, he was one of the few remaining persons to have graduated from Wilmington High School when it was located in what is now the Curriculum Center on Middlesex Avenue.

He was a descendant of the Daniel Gowing who was the last lock keeper at the Gillis Locks of the old Middlesex Canal, and was born in the house on the northerly side of Shawsheen Avenue, which was known to a former generation of Wilmington residents as the Furlan house. It was formerly a part of the Canal House, and Daniel Gowing had it moved across the street, and onto the old Gillis Locks, which became the cellar of the house.

LeRoy was the son of Walter E. and Sarah Gowing Bedell. Walter, who had moved into Wilmington from Lawrence as a youth, was a railroad employee and LeRoy, at 15, and while still in High School, became a railroad telegrapher, part time. He retired from the railroad 49 years and six months later, in September 1960, and at the time of his retirement he was a Tower Man at Winchester.

In World War I he was a member of the US Army 14th Railroad Engineers, which was one of the first units to land in France.

In 1923 he and his brother Harry established the Bedell Brothers Insurance Agency, at his home on Burlington Avenue. The agency, now on Main Street, is still operated by two sons of Mr. Bedell.

In 1922 he married the late Velma Bryant of Roslindale. There are seven children, LeRoy Bennett Bedell of Hildebrand Way; Margery Spear of Burlington Avenue; Mathias B. Bedell of Chestnut Street; and Vilma Merrill of Pinewood Road Wilmington; Shirley O'Donnell of Marshfield; Richard Bedell of Wakefield; and Iva Riley of Chico, California.

Mr. Bedell is survived by his wife, Dorothy O. Bosworth Bedell. He is also the step father of Bertram W. O'Donnell and Edward O'Donnell of Marshfield and Franklin O'Donnell of Fairbanks, Alaska.

Thirty-one grandchildren and three great-grandchildren also survive. He was the brother of Sarah Perry of St. Petersburg, Florida, and Walter Bedell of Boylston and Harry G. Bedell of Lowell.

The Rev. David Ferner is to officiate at the church, tomorrow. Instead of flowers contributions in his memory may be made to the Heart Fund, 677 Beacon Street, Boston.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Larz:

Regarding an article in the April 22 issue of the Town Crier in which reference was made to the present proposed site of the Health Center as the Woodside land on Lowell St.

Over nine years ago when a committee was formed to establish a hospital for Wilmington, several sites were inspected and the Lowell Street site was selected as most suitable.

As there was no money in the treasury at that time, the Wood-sides obtained a loan and purchased the land, so as to secure the site until it was ready for use, with the understanding it would revert back to the Hospital for the purchase price, plus costs ensued. It was also stated that no monetary gain would be made on this transaction.

Despite the many rumors being made, the land was offered to the Cohate Hospital at a lesser amount than the above terms.

Regardless of where the Health Center is built, we will be thankful that Wilmington will have a medical facility which is desperately needed.

Mel & Lil Woodside

To the Editor:

As the Little League season opens I would like to express my thoughts about a situation that exists, namely a lack of good sportsmanship.

During last season I had occasion to be associated with a lady who believes, as I do, that we should all be concerned about the welfare, confidence and capabilities of all the girls, not just the 15 or so who might be on a particular team.

When a grown woman stands on the sidelines during a game and screams out "she can't pitch" or "she can't hit" what does that do for the self confidence of the girl pitching or hitting?

It is also a concern of mine that some of the coaches allow the girls to scream "fresh" remarks at each other - words of encouragement should be heard, but not words to belittle and destroy.

With concern for all,
Shirley Dionne

NIS at Mayfair

Those eighth grade students at Wilmington's North Intermediate School are still hard work raising funds for their "Capitol Idea" trip to Washington, D.C. in June.

As a change of pace from the weekly car washes they have had recently, they, along with a few parents, will be running the refreshment concession at the Mayfair of the League of Women Voters to be held on Saturday, May 1, at the Woburn Street School from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m.

They will be serving hot dogs, coffee, cold drinks and desserts.

The youngsters are trying to "pay their way," and hoping visitors to the Mayfair will help them try.

A Water Shortage this Summer?

Two years ago the Town Meeting refused to appropriate $2 millions, for a water treatment plant, to be erected down by Butters Row. The proposal for the plant had been made by the Wilmington Water Commissioners.

For two years previously there had been complaints of dirty water, water that sometimes was distinctly ink-like. Most of the complaints came from the westerly part of town. Subsequently the water commissioners shut down the pumping stations on Aldrich Road, and on Butters Row. The pumping station on Chestnut Street underwent a cleaning - a surging of the well, about two years ago, to get rid of iron in the nearby soil. It cost $3000.

The vote in the town meeting, it must be remarked, was highly political. The water commissioners wanted a treatment plant. The people wanted clean water. There had been discussions about advice the commissioners had received, and a selectman had something to say, in that town meeting.

Only 33 persons voted for the treatment plant.

Last year, instead of the 39 or 40 inches of rain, Wilmington received a total of 51 inches. There was no need for the water from that treatment plant. Wilmington had plenty of water.

This year the spring is early, and it looks like a long, hot summer. The well field down on Chestnut Street has been surged again. This time the cost was $5000.

Will there be excessive rain this year - or only 39 or 40 inches? If the latter is the case, Wilmington may very well be experiencing a water shortage, about the middle of August. It is quite possible that some of Wilmington's lawns will not be quite so green.

Scholarships for Seniors Wilmington High School

Scholarships are still available, for seniors of Wilmington High School, from the Wilmington High School Boosters. Last year four scholarships were given.

They are available to both male and female graduates, persons who have taken part in the athletic programs of Wilmington High School. Applications are available in the High School Guidance Of-ice.

Kevin Nolan Scholarships are also to be given, to both male and female students. Applications are available in the Guidance office.

All applications must be returned by May 10. Robert Winchell of Lawrence Street is the acting president of the High School Athletic Boosters.

Robert Vassalo promoted at Registry

Robert Vassalo, Kilmarnock St., Wilmington has been promoted to the rank of Investigator with the Massachusetts Registry of Motor Vehicles.

Mr. Vassalo had served as an Inspector for the past seven years with the Registry, assigned to traffic patrol duties in the Registry's enforcement division.

He is a graduate of Boston State College, and holds a degree in Law Enforcement.

To attend national conference

Three Wilmington High School seniors have been named to participate in the Tenth Annual Office Education Association Conference, in Topeka, Kansas, this weekend.

Pamela Chase of Cunningham Street, Mary Osgood of Oakridge Circle and Diane Sugrue of Marcus Road will be in Topeka from April 30 to May 5. They will be a part of the approximately 4000 students and advisors who will attend the conference.

The girls will participate in national competition. Pamela Chase will be in Type III competition; Mary Osgood in Job Interview competition and Diane Sugrue in Job Interview competition. The girls will be accompanied by Mrs. Frances Boudreau, commercial teacher of Wilmington High.

The national conference climaxes a year of growth and progress for Office Education students. During the conference the students will be involved with leadership sessions, workshops, election of National officers, competitive events and other educational activities.

It will be the first long trip, by air, for Pamela Chase and for Mary Osgood.

Jehovah's Witnesses weekend conference

Jehovah's Witnesses in the Wilmington area will be traveling to Natick this weekend for their semi-annual Bible conference which will be held Saturday and Sunday, May 8 and 9. The site of the assembly will be the group's Assembly Hall at 85 Beacon St.

The Watchtower Bible and Tract Society of Brooklyn, New York, is sponsoring the gathering for the nine congregations that comprise the Massachusetts Circuit No. 5. William Martin, district supervisor, will deliver the keynote address "Are You Doing What God Requires of You?". In his discourse Mr. Martin will stress what the Scriptures show to be God's will for mankind.

According to Elmo Perella, presiding minister of the local congregation, about 125 from the Wilmington area will attend the assembly.

All sessions will be open to the public and the admission is free. No collections will be taken.

Sgt. Lopez has new post

Staff Sergeant Anthony A. Lopez, Jr. has recently been placed in charge of the Andover State Police Barracks. Sergeant Lopez has been a member of the uniform branch of the State Police for almost 15 years. Before receiving his present position he was a Patrol Supervisor.

In addition to his new command, he also attends Northeastern University and plans to receive his Associates Degree in June. He hopes to go on and complete his studies and graduate in 1977 with a Bachelor's Degree.

Sgt. Lopez resides with wife Anne Marie and two children, Stephen and Theresa on Clyde Ave., Wilmington.

Uncle Sam contest winners announced

The winners of the Middlesex Board of Realtors (EMBR) Uncle Sam coloring contest will have their moment of glory Saturday, April 24, when prizes are awarded at EMBR offices, 13 Union Street, Reading.

Winners and their families will be treated to cake and punch by EMBR officers and directors at the celebration, which will also mark Uncle Sam's 200th birthday. Realtors nationally are marking Private Property Week, April 18-24 with a variety of community programs.

Hundreds of entries were received from Reading, Melrose, Stoneham, Wakefield and Woburn. Mrs. Chris Kimball of Lynnfield and Donald Langell of the Middlesex Bank, Stoneham, accepted the challenge of selecting winners. Children in grades one through six showed through their drawings the range of ideas Uncle Sam has come to represent.

For each of the five participating communities, one winner was chosen at each grade level to receive as an award a cast iron Uncle Sam bank. One grand prize winner, drawn from all five towns, was also chosen for each grade. These winners will choose between radios and $25.00 U.S. Savings Bonds.

The Board of Realtors has extended its thanks to all children who participated in the contest.

Exploring the roots of one of America's best known symbols, Uncle Sam, has been a Bicentennial project of the National Association of Realtors. A local board member is available to show a documentary film narrated by E.G. Marshall, "Uncle Sam: The Man and the Legend," to schools and organizations. More information is available at the EMBR office, 944-6006.

Grand prize winners in the coloring contest include: Sean Coady of Woburn, first grade; Sheryl Rubin of Stoneham, second grade; Linnea Thomas, Stoneham, third grade; Jimmy Yzdavinis, Woburn, fourth grade; Susan Belleville, Stoneham, fifth grade; and Bob Sorabella, Stoneham, sixth grade.

Winners of the local competition in Reading include: Lynn Hadley, 109 King St.; Curt Nitzsche, 42 Bay State Rd.; Tammy Winkler, 167 Green St.; Darlene Silva, 45 Track Rd.; Ricky Conlan, 66 Westcroft Rd.; and Scott Rogers, 51 Longfellow Rd.

In Melrose were: Annette Murphy, 4 Myrtle St.; Jody Stephenson, 35 Brazile St.; and

Anthony Scapicchio, 98 Walton Pk. In Wakefield were: Jeanne Patrick, 13 Strathmore Rd.; Michele Morgan, 19 Nahant St.; Mike Raymond, 22 Gould St.; Andrea Perra, 18 Sheffield Rd.; Andrew Schille, 6 Park Ave.; and Colette Pameizer, 6 Whittemore Terr.

Woburn winners were: Laura Mae Taggart, 44 Warren Ave.; Valene Gulla, 8 Seneca Rd.; and Billy Petrillo, Westgate Dr., Building 8.

LWV Mayfair, Saturday, May 1

Plants, hand-crafted dolls, ceramics, baked goods, good used articles and children's clothing are just a few of the items which will be available at the Wilmington League of Women Voters fund-raising Mayfair.

The fair, to be held on Saturday, May 1, will be open from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. The event will be conducted at the Woburn Street School.

A raffle for a painting will be held; there will be games for children and refreshments will be available. Admission has been set at 25 cents for adults, children under 12 free.

Bits & Pieces

27 years a priest

On May 4, Father J. Kevin McAndrews, pastor of St. Dorothy's Church will be observing his 27th year as a priest.

Carnival benefits

The annual carnival, sponsored by the Rotary Club, in North Wilmington has come and gone, and Wilmington Youth Hockey and Little League will be the beneficiaries. Checks are shortly to go to those organizations for $700 apiece.

Ladies Sodality

St. Dorothy's Ladies Sodality monthly meeting scheduled for Tuesday, May 4 has been changed to Tuesday, May 11 at 7 p.m.

The Communion breakfast will be held on Sunday, May 16 at the K of C Hall in Tewksbury. Guest speaker will be Dr. Annabelle Melville, author of the book "Mother Seton." Tickets are now available at $3.50.

For information call Prefect Helen Hair at 658-3087.

Returned to base

A 1975 graduate of Wilmington High School, Mike (Scooter) Sullivan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Sullivan of Crest Ave., has finished basic training at the Great Lakes Naval Training Center and was awarded leave.

He will leave Wilmington on April 30 to return to base where he expects to be reassigned to duty in the Orient.

To benefit retarded

The Wilmington V.F.W. Post will hold its second annual benefit for retarded citizens on Friday, April 30 at 7:30 p.m. Tickets are $2.50 per person and the public is invited.

Several bands will donate their time, and hot and cold buffet will be served. Any donations will be appreciated.

For tickets or information, call 657-4085.

Visit Ireland

A Wilmington couple, Helen and Frank Darling Jr. of Eames St., returned home recently from an enjoyable tour of Ireland during which they visited Shannon, Limerick and Kilarney, among other points of interest in Southern Ireland.

The Darlings were accompanied on their trip by Dr. and Mrs. Ralph Laporte of Reading.

Named to honor roll

A Wilmington resident, Donald L. Moore of Kilmarnock St., has been named to the president's honor roll for outstanding scholastic achievement during the first semester at Wentworth Institute.

Donald is a senior at the Institute.

Take a chance

The Crusaders Drum & Bugle Corps of Wilmington will be canvassing the area on Saturday, May 1, selling chances on an RCA 25" color television.

When a Crusader comes to the door, why not help support them and buy a chance—they will be selling for 50 cents each or three for $1.00.

Honorable mention

Linda Allen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Allen of Lawrence St., Wilmington won honorable mention in design in the annual freshman class exhibition held at the Art Institute of Boston, 700 Beacon Street.

The show was held in the Institute's MacIvor Reddie Gallery, where exhibits by students, faculty and professional artists take place throughout the year.

From the fire log

Members of Wilmington's Fire Department answered 59 calls for assistance between April 11 and April 17 including:

One building fire; three dumpster fires; 10 ambulance runs; two service calls; 37 brush fires; four false alarms and two truck fires.

Fish in trouble

The Wilmington Fish Program (people helping people) is desperately in need of drivers for one day a month to transport people with emergency appointments and no apparent way to fill them in this area.

Anyone willing to volunteer their time is urged to contact Lynne Bissett, 657-7584. Be a good neighbor!

Hospitalized

Michael DiNunzio, of Marjorie Rd., Wilmington, popular chef at the 129 Restaurant is currently a patient at Choate Hospital in Woburn.

Mrs. Jane Bull of Burlington Ave., is undergoing treatment at Choate Hospital. Oddly, Mike and Jane worked side-by-side in Avco's cafeteria, now their rooms are side-by-side at Choate.

Dr. Ernest Wallent of Middlesex Ave., Wilmington will turn another page on April 24 and will be assisted in doing so by Thomas Arnold of Sheridan Rd., who will be celebrating for the 16th time on April 24.

Wilmington runner Jerry DeJongh finished the Patriot's Day Boston marathon in four hours and 51 minutes Monday April 19.

Jerry has been running five days a week for 13 years. The 38-year-old DeJongh won the Wilmington marathon in 1972.

Moved to Maine

Chris and Cheryl (Sawicki) Mahoney and daughters Carol and Heidi, formerly of Bond St., Tewksbury took up residence in Sanford, Maine last week where Chris will be employed with a Chevrolet dealership.

National Honor Society inducts

The National Honor Society had its annual induction ceremony on March 18 at the North Intermediate cafetorium.

The induction ceremony was attended by parents, faculty, administrators, and school committee members. The candlelight ceremony followed a roast beef dinner.

On March 24 the Society was honored by the Wilmington Women's Club at their monthly meeting.

The girls received a bicentennial medallion and the boys a bicentennial key chain. The speaker was Hamilton Osgood, Channel 2's Auction director, who informed the society and the Women's Club of the background and functions of the acution.

A delightful evening was enjoyed by all.

Wilmington Senior Set

On Monday, April 26, 40 seniors enjoyed a swimming party at Shawsheen Tech. Seniors have been awarded use of the Tech swimming pool each Monday.

On May 3, the swim time will be from 12 noon to 1 p.m. Participating seniors are requested to be at the center prior to 11:45 p.m. at which time the party will leave for the school. Those taking part should bring along bathing suits, a towel. A bathing cap is optional. There are dressing rooms available.

Regretfully, due to the illness of instructor Pat Clancy, the sand sculpting classes have been temporarily cancelled. Classes will resume when Mrs. Clancy has recovered.

The next dancing lessons will be on April 29 (today) from 1 to 4:30 p.m. at the center.

Seniors interested in the various activities at the center are urged to call 657-7575. For transportation via mini-bus, seniors may call the center any day from 9:30 to 4:30.

Bits & Pieces

Back home

Mary Tedesco of Clark St., Wilmington has returned home following surgery at Malden Hospital.

Mrs. Tedesco is feeling fine now and said she was helped on the road to recovery by the many cards and good wishes she received while hospitalized.

She is a former employee of Stelios' Restaurant and prior to working there, served at the 129 Restaurant for seven years.

Back to work

It was back to work at the Stop & Shop in Boston last Monday for Clem Boudreau of Cook Ave., Wilmington.

Mr. Boudreau recently returned home from Robert Breck Brigham Hospital in Roxbury, where he was confined for treatment.

Anniversaries

April 21st marked the silver wedding anniversary of Fred and Diane Hancox of Kilmarnock St., Wilmington.

Helping the Hancox' prove that April 21 was a great day to get married on were Amy and Brownell Malone of Mass. Ave., who danced the Anniversary Waltz for the 49th time on the 21st.

According to the records at hand, April 28 is a favorable day for weddings too.

The Mike Cairns of Moore St., celebrated for the third time on the 28th, and their neighbors, Ted and Dot Lowry, also of Moore St., made it to their 20th on the 28th.

A couple on Clark St., made beginners of them all. The Ernest Cail's marked their 54th wedding anniversary on April 28.

Dudley and Helen Blake of Clark St., Wilmington will be celebrating their 44th anniversary on May 1, and the Reginald Bishops of West St., will make it to their sixth on May 4.

Wilmington Senior Set

On Monday, April 26, 40 seniors enjoyed a swimming party at Shawsheen Tech. Seniors have been awarded use of the Tech swimming pool each Monday.

On May 3, the swim time will be from 12 noon to 1 p.m. Participating seniors are requested to be at the center prior to 11:45 p.m. at which time the party will leave for the school. Those taking part should bring along bathing suits, a towel. A bathing cap is optional. There are dressing rooms available.

Regrettably, due to the illness of instructor Pat Clancy, the sand sculpting classes have been temporarily cancelled. Classes will resume when Mrs. Clancy has recovered.

The next dancing lessons will be on April 29 (today) from 1 to 4:30 p.m. at the center.

Seniors interested in the various activities at the center are urged to call 657-7575. For transportation via mini-bus, seniors may call the center any day from 9:30 to 4:30.

Bits & Pieces

Back home

Mary Tedesco of Clark St., Wilmington has returned home following surgery at Malden Hospital.

Mrs. Tedesco is feeling fine now and said she was helped on the road to recovery by the many cards and good wishes she received while hospitalized.

She is a former employee of Steins Restaurant and prior to working there, served at the 129 Restaurant for seven years.

Back to work

It was back to work at the Stop & Shop in Boston last Monday for Clem Boudreau of Cook Ave., Wilmington.

Mr. Boudreau recently returned home from Robert Breck Brigham Hospital in Roxbury, where he was confined for treatment.

Anniversaries

April 21st marked the silver wedding anniversary of Fred and Diane Hancox of Kilmarnock St., Wilmington.

Helping the Hancox prove that April 21 was a great day to get married on were Amy and Brownell Malone of Mass. Ave., who danced the Anniversary Waltz for the 49th time on the 21st.

According to the records at hand, April 28 is a favorable day for weddings too.

The Mike Cairns of Moore St., celebrated for the third time on the 28th, and their neighbors, Ted and Dot Lowry, also of Moore St., made it to their 20th on the 28th.

A couple on Clark St., made beginners of them all. The Ernest Cail's marked their 54th wedding anniversary on April 28.

Dudley and Helen Blake of Clark St., Wilmington will be celebrating their 44th anniversary on May 1, and the Reginald Bishops of West St., will make it to their sixth on May 4.

Nancy Jeanne Hamilton is Bride

Pink and white mums adorned the altar of St. Thomas Church for the wedding of Nancy Jeanne Hamilton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Hamilton of Ella Ave., Wilmington and Herbert E. McCoy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert M. McCoy of Woburn Street.

Father Francis Mackin performed the 7 p.m. ceremony on Friday, April 9.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was radiant in a floor-length white satin gown, trimmed with ribbon and lace, featuring a lace-trimmed round neckline and long bishop sleeves. Her full length veil was held in place by a cap of matching lace and she carried a bouquet of white daisies.

Barbara Hamilton of Wilmington served as maid of honor in a full length pink gown with matching headpiece. She carried a rainbow bouquet of daisies.

Ann Hamilton and Susan McGerity of Malden acted as bridesmaids. Ann wore a line green gown which blended beautifully with Susan's gown or orchid. Both carried rainbow bouquets.

Wayne Kirby of Wilmington served as best man while ushering duties were in charge of William Peterson and Wesley Moore, both of Wilmington.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the Knights of Columbus Hall in Wilmington.

The new Mrs. McCoy is a 1974 graduate of Wilmington High School. The groom graduated from Wilmington High School with the class of 1973 and is now employed as an electro-mechanical technician.

Following a wedding trip to New Jersey the couple is residing in Wilmington.

Austin Prep sports highlights

The Austin Cougar baseball squad pounded out three consecutive wins this past week, improving their season record to four wins and four losses.

On Wednesday Austin took the measure of previously undefeated Central Catholic by a 5-0 score. Ken Peters (Wilmington) on the mound for the Cougars pitched a complete game allowing only five hits. Steve Magiera swung the big bat. He was credited with two RBI's as Austin scored three in the fourth. The Willow Street boys registered a single tally in both the fifth and sixth. John Smith (Wilmington) and Tony Santullo respectively drove in the runs with solid base hits.

Ted Coppinger continued to goose egg opponents as he blanked Bruce Parker's Methuen Rangers 8-0. Coppinger allowed three hits, walked five and struck out three.

Austin scored five runs in the very first inning and added singletons in the second, fifth and sixth. The game was never in doubt. Chuch Gaudet and Joe Coneeney were the leading hitters.

Each collected three safe base hits.

Last Saturday, the Preppers made Middlesex League Belmont, their third straight victim (5-2). Mark Govoni with relief help from Ken Peters was the pitcher of record.

Summer Gymnastics Club

Northeast Sports and Recreation Association is organizing a summer gymnastics program for boys and girls with an intense interest in gymnastics.

The program will offer 20 hours per week of supervised gymnastics including three half-hour private lessons per week for each participant. Available apparatus will include floor exercise area, balance beam, vault box, uneven bars, even bars, and rings.

Hours will be weekdays from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. Interested persons should call or write to Gymnastics Club, in care of Charles Cicciarella, 2 Fairmount Terrace, Wakefield. A maximum of 26 members can be accepted.

The game was scoreless for the first three innings. However, the Cougars exploded with four runs in the fourth to take the lead. They added another in the sixth to up the score to 5-0. Belmont finally was able to post two runs in the last of the seventh. Austin pitchers had thrown 20 innings of shutout ball before Belmont broke through.

Tony Santullo, Fred McKay and Mike Ciampa led the hit parade with two safe blows in this win over the "B" towners.

The Cougar trackmen were not as successful as their brother baseballers vs. Andover. The Golden Warrior track squad is considered to be one of the strongest in schoolboy competition. Austin had the misfortune to open its season against them with devastating results. Andover trampled the young, undermanned Cougars. Only Kevin Callahan in the mile and Blaise Conte in the half-mile were able to gain first place standings.

Coaches Lehane and McDonough see brighter things ahead as the trackmen face Billerica on Monday and Wilmington on Thursday. The meet with Wilmington at Father Seymour Field in Reading will be the first home meet for the Cougars - starting time is 3:30 p.m.

Romano joins Perreault

Two former TMHS sports coaches with excellent past performances will be leading University of Lowell teams this coming season.

Tewksbury High School basketball Coach Tony Romano will be joining former TMHS assistant football Coach John Perreault at the school. Perreault will be entering his second season as head football coach at ULowell.

Romano will be coaching his first season at the University after several successful seasons at Tewksbury and an excellent job as an assistant at Middlesex Community College this past winter.

Rec softball programs set

The Wilmington Recreation Department's summer softball and baseball programs for teenagers has been set up and sign-up dates have been established by Director Ron Swasey.

Any boy or girl interested in participating in any of the programs listed below may register with Mr. Dicey at the High School or at the Rec office any day during the month of May.

Girls' softball

Ages 13-16, with all girls being born on September 1, 1959 or after being eligible. There will be an in-town division with play set to begin on Saturday, June 5. There will also be two traveling squads, which will compete in the Middle Essex Girls' Softball League during July and August.

Womens' softball

Ages 17 and over with the participants age on August 31 of the current year being the determining factor. The Red Department will enter a team in the Northwest Women's Softball League. Play will begin in early June and continue throughout the summer months.

Baseball

Northeast League entry for boys up to 18 years of age, but cannot be 19 before August first of the current year. League play will begin on June 7 and run through August 12.

Boys' softball

One-pitch league for all boys ages 13-17 with league play beginning in mid-June and concluding in August. To be eligible for this intra-town league a boy must reach his 13th and not his 18th birthday by August 31, 1976.

Wilmington Rec Soccer

In the past two weeks the Wilmington B team has lost two games by identical 2-0 scores.

Outstanding players in the first game for Wilmington were Scott Nolan, Brian Bulger, Paul Sousa, Gary Hastings and goal tender Bob Canning. Highlights of the scoreless first half include many saves by Canning, and fine defensive plays by tri-captain Brian Bulger and fullback Gary Hastings.

The second half was equally close except for the two Topsfield goals, one of which was a penalty kick. Wilmington's second half was highlighted by a few steaming Paul Sousa shots. Wilmington's two youngest players, Dana Tarricone and Andy Kritter, provided the fans with plenty of excitement by showing a lot of hustle and good moves.

In last Saturday's game outstanding players for Wilmington were Scott Nolan, Paul Sousa, and Brian Bulger, who all played fine defensive games. Other than that the game was mostly Winchester except for a few half flurries.

Junior Ladder

The Junior Ladder of the Wilmington Tennis Club is to begin this year on May 31 and will continue through the summer, ending on September 3. It will be for boys and girls ages nine through 16. Anyone interested in the Junior Ladder should register with their co-ordinators between May 3 and May 16.

The girls may register by calling Judy Conant, 658-9531. Boys may register by calling Mark Smith, 658-9030.

A tournament is being planned for the Junior program. Information regarding this and the clinics will be out shortly.

Any Wilmington resident interested in joining the WTC may contact Sandy Durling, 658-9583. A reminder, all club dues are past due. Checks should be made payable to the Wilmington Tennis Club, and mailed to Sandy Durling, 3 Woodland Road, Wilmington.

"Great White Way"

Broadway, the "Great White Way," came to Wilmington last weekend as the Figure Skating Club presented its 1976 Ice Review before an audience of approximately 1300.

The Youth Ice Arena, normally a beehive of hockey activity, was pleasantly transformed into a beautiful Broadway stage, complete with glittering lights, musical notes and a profusion of white ties and tails.

For their Salute to Broadway, the professional staff of the Figure Skating Club chose to present selections from various Broadway shows which included Gypsy, South Pacific, Fiddler on the Roof, Sound of Music, Oklahoma and Mame, to name a few.

Highlight of the evening was a rousing presentation of George M. Cohan's popular patriotic music from the score of "George M" which featured Michael Potenza as the debonair Mr. Top Hat.

The production featured approximately 150 skaters including lovely solo performances by Barbara Baker, Christine Cooke, Cynthia Cornish, Robin MacDonald, Margaret McGowan and Lisa Smith.

Featured soloists in many group numbers included Susan Childs, Jamie Farrell, Kelly Glynn, Gail Hanson, Debbie Jerrett, Sharon Lord, Correy Mungillo, Lynne Murphy, Lisa Murray, Catherine Ryan, Amy Beth Scott, Leane Smith, Lynne Smith and Mary Beth Thiel, all of whom turned in fine performances.

Special guest stars who gave spectacular presentations were club professional, Carolyn Stafford, recently returned from European competition, who skated to a very moving rendition of "Send in the Clowns" from the hit show "A Little Night Music"; Sheila Corcoran and Jock Kohlas, an exciting Gold Dance team from the Skating Clubs of Hartford and Philadelphia; and the dynamic 1976 Eastern Senior Men's Champion, Mahlon Bradley from the Skating Club of Boston, who thrilled the audiences with his fantastic double jumps and spins which brought the crowd to its feet on Friday evening for a standing ovation.

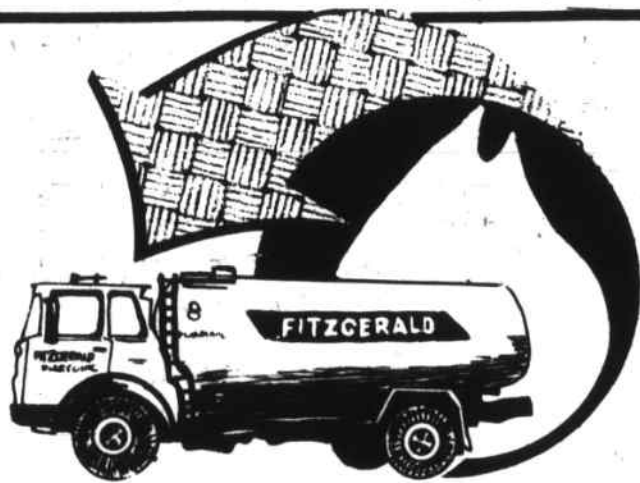

Master of Ceremonies, Joe Murphy, cited the many people who contributed to the success of the production in the areas of costumes, music, tickets, make-up, props, etc., while special accolades were given to Mrs. Shirley Yorks, show secretary and Mrs. Diane Ryan, club president, for their untiring efforts and dedication in tying the production together, thereby making it a reality.

Romano a respected winner

by Rick Cooke

Tony Romano is a winner. But more importantly he is a respected winner. He is not a Bobby Knight-type. No ranting and raving and embarrassing his players, that just isn't Romano's style. Sure he yells, but the man usually yells for a purpose. That purpose is to keep his team playing solid fundamental basketball.

I had the privilege to play under Romano for one high school basketball season. I had a good opportunity to watch his coaching style closely because I sat in close proximity on the bench. I didn't play much and at that time we were a struggling team with four developing juniors. Romano played the four kids and the next winter his confidence paid off in an Eastern Mass. Tourney semi-final berth. The juniors - Mike Manna, Jimmy Meuse, Joe Lewis, and Gary Jenkins played important parts in the following season's success story.

Romano's patience and confidence had paid off. I sat, watched, and admired. Sure I wasn't playing, but I wasn't upset because I knew Romano was no dummy.

He knew who to put out there to help TMHS win. He was an excellent judge of talent. There were coaches at the school who benched me whom I didn't respect as much as Romano. He had the ability to make even a 12th man feel part of the team - especially in practice sessions.

Everybody worked up a sweat and the sessions many times were designed to be as enjoyable as possible while at the same time getting the preparation in. Romano's "team concept" is clearly evident in the players he had coached. Athletes such as Mike Manna, John Bacheller, and Mike Hailson weren't great players with bundles of talent. But Romano utilized them in a special way so that they knew their limitations on court. They used their certain talents to the best of their ability. Some players may have had more talent, but few had a better idea of the Tewksbury team concept.

Romano has had the foresight to see that a successful high school basketball program starts with the young people.

He has directed a youth league program along with current TMHS Coach Mickey Sullivan that is a source of pride to Tewksbury athletics.

He has taken the time to explain the fundamentals to the kids. At one talk session the kids sat around Romano wide-eyed with interest as he explained the travelling violation.

The youngsters have heard. Romano has won. Some amount of basketball tradition has been established at Tewksbury High over Romano's coaching span.

There were the lean years. When the school's gymnasium burnt down some years back the team's practice time was drastically cut as TMHS had to share a gym with the freshman squad and play all of their games on the road. Yet the Redmen were still a respectable outfit despite this adversity. I was a freshman basketball player then and I was amazed at the spirit of the varsity under those trying circumstances.

Romano cut me my senior year. An ankle injury played a small part, but it was obvious he was going with the people he thought could help the team win. I was upset at first, but then I realized I was being axed by a good coach - If some rink coach had said goodbye to me I would have burst a blood vessel. Romano is respected and well-liked in the area and that goes a long way in establishing a reputation.

Now Tony moves on to a greater challenge. The University of Lowell chiefs have themselves one hell of a basketball coach!

Rec bowlers to visit Canobie Lake

The Wilmington Recreation Department's bowling program will come to its conclusion with the annual trip to Canobie Lake this Saturday.

bowlers are reminded that the buses will be leaving the High School parking lot at 11 a.m.

There were many outstanding bowling scores this past season by the more than 500 youngsters in grades four through 12 who took part in the program.

Apathy slows sign-up

Players needed for "Alumni Bowl"

Former Tewksbury and Wilmington High School football players who played between 1967-74 are being sought to fill out the rosters for the "Alumni Bowl" game to be played at Tewksbury's Center School field June 5. The game is being played for a house-building fund for retiring TMHS Coach and Athletic Director Charles Hazel.

All players will be fully insured and Tewksbury High will be providing all the necessary equipment. All those interested in playing should contact Bob Aylward at 851-2878 or clip the coupon in this week's Crier and mail it to the Sports Editor, Ricky Cooke, Parliament Park, North Billerica, Mass. 01872.

A great deal of local apathy has slowed the game's sign-up. Local players who have expressed interest from Wilmington: Ray Ventura, Artie Bibeau, and the Gillis brothers. From Tewksbury, Jim Panzino, Jim Looney, Ted Fantini, and Ricky Cooke.

The original goal was for two rosters of 30 players each, but that has been dropped to 20 due to the meager sign-up up to this point.

Trackster Hodge sets ULowell record

Saturday, April 24 was a memorable day for the University of Lowell and its distance ace Bob Hodge. Hodge set new school and track records in the three mile run and ULowell swept all four places in the long jump and the top three spots in the discus, hammer throw, and 400 intermediate hurdles. The action took place in a quad meet.

Wilmington's Tim Nee took the intermediate hurdles in 0:58.1 time followed by Radiallo and Art Vercollone. The hammer throw saw Eddie Campbell emerge victorious. Haskell was second and Bruce Weston finished third.

The man who paid for the steeple

The houses at Buck's Corner

The Wilmington Buck family, the family who dwelled for nearly 300 years at Buck's Corner, liked the name of Jonathan. There were, of course, other names, but every generation or two seemed to use the name of Jonathan.

The last Buck, John Henry, who died in 1939, was baptized Jonathan Henry. It was only in his last 40 years of life that he used the term John Henry.

One of the earliest of Bucks to be born in Wilmington (it was then a part of Woburn) was the Jonathan Buck who became Colonel Buck during the Revolutionary War, and was the man who founded the port of Bucksport, in Maine. Jonathan is famous now because there is a discoloration on his gravestone, alleged to have been put there by a witch, and called the Witch's Boot. So many people have gone into the cemetery there in Bucksport that it is now closed off, or so the story goes.

From Colonel Buck many families of that family in the United States are descended. He had great grandsons who wore the blue, and great grandsons who wore the grey, in the Civil War.

But the Jonathan Buck name to be discussed at this time is he who was a brother of Benjamin Buck, and another of the same name.

Jonathan, the son of Samuel, was born in Wilmington about 1803, and lived in Wilmington all his life.

There isn't much to tell about him, except that he raises the question, when one discusses Jonathan Buck, in the days of the nineteenth century - viz: Are you talking about Jonathan, the son of Samuel, or are you talking about Jonathan, the son of Nathan? Or maybe the third Jonathan of the nineteenth century - he who became John Henry.

It is difficult to differentiate. One cannot prove that the Darius Buck house was built by the son of Nathan Buck, although that is quite probably the case, for it might possibly have been built by the son of Samuel Buck, unlikely though that be. It just cannot be proven, with the material at hand.

But the Jonathan of the Darius Buck House was quite probably the son of Nathan. Nathan had other children, and for a veteran of the American Revolution it is noteworthy that his children were living, for the most part, 100 years later.

Bear Oak Stump

JOHN HENRY AND HENRY PENNY. The photograph was at Bear Oak, which stood for several hundred years westerly of Maple Meadow Brook, and on Wildwood Street. Herb Barrows said many years ago that he helped to cut the oak in 1902, and that it was twelve feet from the brook. In the picture it does not appear to have been cut.

The last bear in Wilmington was killed here, by Ephraim Buck. The gun he used, a Queen Anne's Arm, is held by John Henry, who before this had been known as Jonathan. The gun is now with Buck descendants in Haine.

Jonathan and Benjamin made money in the Hop Farming business of Wilmington. Twenty-two million dollars were earned in Wilmington in about 20 years. About 1822 the Hop Blight hit the town, and the hop industry died.

One source of a story is to be seen in the autobiography of Asa Sheldon. Asa, as a young man, trucked some hops to New York State, via ox cart, and on the return trip he relates how he hid the money in a bullock's ear, just in case he was to meet a highwayman.

The Benjamin Buck House is one of the most interesting of its kind, in probably all the United States. Benjamin, and probably Nathan before him, rigged the attic for the drying of hops, and there was a huge chute, for dropping bags of dried hops back to the ground floor.

They made money. Jonathan spent his to build the Darius Buck house. Of course he still had some left - right to his last days.

Benjamin put his money in a secret hiding place, and on occasion he loaned cash to the Town of Wilmington - $1000, $2000 or more. The interest charged was six per cent - which wasn't too high, for that day and age.

He also gave money - to the church particularly, and to other places too.

John Henry, who was not a descendant of Benjamin, but probably a grandson of Jonathan, remarked somewhat bitterly, in his later years, that there was no more Buck money - Benjamin had given it all away. He was probably

Wilmington's musical ambassadors

IN STATE COMPETITION: The Crusaders, at Framingham in the fall of 1975, as they appeared in the State competition.

For over 14 years the Wilmington Crusaders have been Wilmington's musical ambassadors within and outside the United States.

They started in a very small way, with uniforms hand made by parents. With determination, dedication and the hard work of continuous practice, they literally marched their way through class championships of C and B levels into Class A level. At this point they were the best in the immediate area.

Also, at this point a drum and bugle corps from another area was in a difficult situation. It's more experienced members were approaching the age of ineligibility. At this time a merger with the corps was agreed upon which at the time was felt that it would also help the Crusaders. A merger with a larger corps usually affects one corps in an adverse manner in as much as they tend to lose their identity, as only one of the merged corps named can be used.

The Crusaders continued on with the younger of its member competing in Class C, and in 1974 captured the Mayflower Jr. Drum & Bugle Corps Circuit Championship.

In 1975 they were invited to, and participated as the featured corps, in Prince Edward Island, Canada. This year they are again competing in Class C, Mayflower Circuit and as an invited competing corps in the Greater New England Circuit. With the proper support they should soon be champions in their class again and proceed to Class B.

Area residents may or may not know the high cost of maintaining a drum & bugle corps. There are horns, drums, flags and uniforms to buy and keep in repair, plus the cost of instructors, transportation and meals while away from home representing the town. Sponsors, at best, provide the use of a hall for meetings as has the Wilmington American Legion plus possibly the donation of a used bus as has the Wilmington VFW. They also receive a very generous yearly cash donation from the Wilmington Community Fund.

At present they are sponsored by Tewksbury-Wilmington Order of Elks, a great portion of whose members are from Wilmington. They are now called the Tewksbury-Wilmington Elks Crusaders. The Elks are doing the best they can for the youths. Yet the greatest, by far, portion of the expenses is raised by the youngsters themselves. They pay their weekly dues, march in parades, have cake sales and sell tickets for various fund raising activities.

It has come to the attention of the Executive Board of the Crusaders that organizations from other areas and towns, not affiliated with the Crusaders, knowing the generosity of the residents of the area toward the Crusaders, have solicited funds here.

It has been suggested that they have just used the words "drum and bugle corps" or other words that may have led area residents, businesses and town fathers to believe they were contributing to the Crusaders. This is not to suggest that they should not contribute to any or all youth organizations. However, it is to our musical ambassadors that you wish to contribute be certain of their identity.

They are very proud of their names and when soliciting out of uniform they never slur nor abbreviate the word Crusaders, and when selling tickets for fund raising, the word Crusaders will be spelled in full.

The president of the Crusaders organization is Jim Fitzpatrick of 10 Allen Park Drive, Wilmington.

To Benefit Retarded

A social, sponsored by the VFW Post 2030 Auxiliary, Friday evening, is to benefit retarded people. It is to begin at 7:30 pm. A variety of orchestras are planned to be present and play for dancing. A buffet dinner is to be served. The public is invited. Tickets will be $2.50 each, available at the door.

(SEAL) Case No. 80089 Misc.

To all whom it may concern and to Gaetano Nocca and Carmen DiMilla, now Sister Frances Carmelita, S.N.D. both now or formerly of Boston, in the County of Suffolk and said Commonwealth, or their heirs, devisees or legal representatives: Maria Camello, Daniele DiMilla, and Florence Zani, all now or formerly of Cambridge, in the County of Middlesex and said Commonwealth, or their heirs, devisees or legal representatives.

G. James Papa, now or formerly of Belmont, in the County of Middlesex, or his heirs, devisees or legal representatives: Rose Nardella, now or formerly of Medford, in said County of Middlesex, or her heirs, devisees or legal representatives: Antonette D'Alessio, now or formerly of Malden, in said County of Middlesex, or her heirs, devisees or legal representatives.

Anna Bidello, Gaetano DiMilla, Jr., Anne Kenney, and Marie DiMilla, all now or formerly of Somerville, in said County of Middlesex, or their heirs, devisees or legal representatives: Rose DiCiacia Gascoigne, now or formerly of Stoneham, in said County of Middlesex, or her heirs, devisees or legal representatives: Rose Marie Brousseau, now or formerly of Natick in said County of Middlesex, or her heirs, devisees or legal representatives: Salvatore J. DiMilla, now or formerly of North Andover, in the County of Essex and said Commonwealth, or his heirs, devisees or legal representatives: Salvatore DiMilla, now or formerly of Fort Wayne, in the State of Indiana, or his heirs, devisees or legal representatives.

Josephine McGonagle, now or formerly of Peabody, in the County of Essex and said Commonwealth, or her heirs, devisees or legal representatives: Cosmo Nocca Camello, Emilia DiMilla, Antonio DiMilla, and Giuseppe DiMilla, all now or formerly of Gaeta, in the Country of Italy, or their heirs, devisees or legal representatives: Murray Hills, Inc., a duly existing corporation, having an usual place of business in Burlington in said County of Middlesex.

Any persons interested in the Small Home Builders, Corporation, or their heirs, devisees, or legal representatives: Cosmo DiLuna, deceased, Alessandro DiMilla, deceased, and Maria DiCiacia, deceased, or their heirs, devisees or legal representatives.

Whereas, a petition has been presented to said Court by Thomas D. Stevens, of Winchester, in the County of Middlesex and said Commonwealth, to establish his title under a low value deed, under the provisions of G.L. (Ter. Ed.) Chapter 60, Section 80-B, running to the Town of Wilmington, by instrument dated October 19, 1956, and recorded in the Midd. No. Dist. Registry of Deeds, in Book 1353, Page 77; that the petitioner now holds his title under deed from Robert P. Stevens, Trustee of Berkshire Realty Trust, dated November 10, 1975 and duly recorded with said Registry of Deeds, in Book 2172, Page 652, and to require you to show cause why you should not bring action to try any claim or claims which you may have adverse to the petitioner's title arising out of the tax proceedings under which the petitioner's title is based:

Said petition covers a parcel of land in said Town of Wilmington, bounded and described as follows: Lots 215 to 219 incl. Merriam Park Plan, recorded in Middlesex North District Registry of Deeds, Plan Book 33, plan 82.

Containing 13,525 square feet more or less. If you desire to make any objection or defense to said petition you or your attorney must file a written appearance and an answer under oath, setting forth clearly and specifically your objections or defense to each part of said petition, in the office of the Recorder of said Court in Boston (at the Court House) or in the office of the Assistant Recorder of said Court at the Registry of Deeds at Lowell on or before the first day of June next.

Unless an appearance is so filed by or for you, your default will be recorded, the said petition will be taken as confessed and you will be forever barred from contesting said petition or from having or enforcing any claim or claims adverse to the petitioner, his heirs or assigns, in the above described land.

And in addition to the usual service of this notice as required by law, it is ordered that the foregoing citation be published forthwith once each week, for three successive weeks, in the Town Crier a newspaper published in said Wilmington.

Witness, WILLIAM I. RANDALL, Esquire, Judge of said Court this fifth day of April 1976.

Attest with Seal of said Court.

WILMINGTON CLEAN-UP PROGRAM

STARTS MAY 3RD

By Precincts, May 3, 4, 5, 6, 7 & 10

The Wilmington Annual Clean-Up Pick-Up will again be programmed by Precincts. Each of the six precincts in Wilmington will have a Pick Up Day. Highway Department trucks will visit each precinct, on turn, as shown, for pick-up.

It will not be necessary for householders to call the Highway Department. Just adhere to the Precinct Schedule. Your rubbish will be picked up if you put it by the curbside.

The pick-up goods will be limited, as usual, to household goods only. The Highway Trucks will not be able to pick up leaves, pine needles, branches, lumber, stumps, etc.

The Highway Department Trucks will pick up items placed by the curb, consisting of household goods, such as stoves, refrigerators, furniture, and other items too bulky for home owners to dispose of by themselves. Please do not leave doors on the refrigerators.

Junk cars will be picked up free of charge. Call 667-9235, 658-4558 or 658-8120. Cars to be removed must be in your own yard, or easily accessible on your property.

Home owners with questions are invited to call the Wilmington Highway Department, 658-4481.

Incidentally, John Henry was an attractive man, in his youth. There is a picture of him and Henry Penny (who was probably a cousin) at the remains of the Bear Oak. The picture was probably taken in 1892, and John Henry could pass for a gentleman farmer - which possible he was. Henry Penny, it can be remarked, looked then, as he looked later, almost pathetic.

Henny was probably a grandson of Darius, but this cannot be proven. He was a diffident soul. He sought no combat. He preferred a solitary life. He earned the name Henny Penny early in life, while he was in school - quite possible at the old East School, at the corner of Federal Street.

Benjamin Buck enters the picture, as far as the Congregational Church is concerned, when one discusses the church parsonage.

It was built by the Bond family - the family that had a bakery in town for about 100 years.

It became the parsonage for the Congregational Church minister in 1854 - a deed from Thomas D. Bond.

And in 1876 it became the property of that member of the Buck family who was Wilmington's

THE HIDING PLACE: Of Benjamin Bucks money. It was a false section, to the chestnut beams overhead in the dining room.

Mrs. Frank Farrell discovered the hiding place eight years ago, and that's her husband showing how empty it was.

Analog Devices expanding

Analog Devices of Norwood and Wilmington, is planning to occupy a 32,000 square foot facility in Wakefield, an expansion of its Wilmington plant and the establishment of a New Venture Development Group and addition to key staff executives.

The firm's orders for integrated circuits are up almost 100 per cent over last year, company president Ray State has noted.

Vice President Bob Peterson, formerly in charge of the Wilmington plant will head up the New Venture Development Group and will be responsible for development of hybrid circuits, integrated circuits and precision resistor networks.

Earlier this year, Analog Devices also announced plans to establish an IC production facility in Ireland to serve European customers who constitute about one-third of total sales.

The Wilmington headquarters for Analog Devices Semiconductor, which has virtually doubled its size during the past year will see continued expansion of plant and equipment. Division Vice President, Dr. Modesto Maidique, has announced that three senior level executives are joining the Division in new positions: Dr. Robert Pepper, previously Director of IC Operations at Sprague Electric, becomes Director of Research and Development; Charles Rawlings, previously Manager of Quality Assurance and Reliability at Raytheon Semiconductor and Texas Instruments' Linear Circuits Division, becomes Director of QA and Reliability; and Gene Donovan, previously Manager of N-Channel MOS operations at General Instrument, becomes Manager of Manufacturing.

Peddlers' penalty in Tewksbury?

The Tewksbury selectmen are looking into ways of levying penalty as a policy has been passed to protect local businessmen from an onslaught of outside peddlers.

Selectman William Hallisey, noticing that the new policy lacked an accompanying penalty for violators, proposed a two year suspension for "outside peddlers" and a one year penalty for local residents.

The policy passed by the board sets a $25 initial permit fee and a daily rate of $25. A transient coming for one day pays $50.

Local businessmen requested the policy because they felt that they could not compete with peddlers who do business on a street corner or from the back of a truck over the period of a day or two. The businessmen explained to selectmen that they were taxpayers and had to contend with such problems as overhead.

Chairman Norman O. Boudreau said that other communities have adopted similar guidelines to protect local businesses.

Wang earnings increase

Wang's consolidated revenues for the three months ended March 31, 1976 amounted to $22,947,000, an increase over the comparable period a year ago. Net earnings increased to $1,102,000 in 1976 from $170,000 in 1975.

For the nine month period ended March 31, 1976, consolidated revenues increased to $65,195,000 in 1976, an increase from $51,309,000 in 1975. Net earnings increased to $3,263,000 in 1976, an 83% increase from $1,785,000 in 1975.

Earnings per share amounted to 21¢ for the three months and 64¢ for the nine months after adjustment to give effect to the additional shares issued in connection with the Class B Common Stock dividend declared on April 9, 1976. Earnings per share before the Class B Common Stock dividend were equivalent to 27¢ for the three months and 80¢ for the nine months ended March 31, 1976.

Cumulative net earnings per share for the four calendar quarters ended March 31, 1976, adjusted to reflect the increased number of shares, amounted to 93¢ compared to 72¢ for the comparable period ended March 31, 1975.

Total backlog at March 31, 1976 was $14.2 million compared to $11.2 million a year ago.

In mid-March the company introduced a new line of portable computing systems designed to strengthen the company's position in the low end of the small computer market.

The company also introduced two new peripherals: a lot cost, medium speed printer, and an innovative drum plotter for graphic display. Both of these products complement the portable computing systems as well as the existing 2200 and WCS Series.

In addition, the company announced a new Work Station. This will expand the top end of the computer line into a distributed multiprocessor configuration where up to four jobs can be executed simultaneously from a common disk data file.

These new hardware products were complemented by two new software packages, Wang/Cash for public accounts, MPS for management planning, and two new industry compatible telecommunications devices which enable Wang products to talk to large computers via telephone lines. Initial deliveries will be made in the fourth quarter of this fiscal year.

The directors have declared quarterly dividends of 2.5¢ per share on the company's Common Stock and 5¢ per share on the company's Class B Common Stock, both payable on August 6, 1976 to shareholders of record on June 25, 1976.

Bicentennial parade

Last Sunday's Bicentennial Parade, which was to take place in Tewksbury and promised to be one of the greatest events ever, was, unfortunately rained out. That parade has been rescheduled.

A few changes as possible have been made in the roster for the rescheduled event which will take place this Sunday, May 2, beginning at 2 p.m.

Dozens of units from some of the finest organizations in Massachusetts plan to participate. There are to be two divisions in the parade, which will form at Oakdale Mall and the Purity Supreme parking lot.

Units in the first division are advised to report to Oakdale Mall no later than 12:45 p.m. on Sunday.

Second division units are requested to form at Purity Supreme parking lot, also no later than 12:45 p.m.

Any units listed in the lineup, not able to take place in the parade this week, please call Mary Novo at 851-7792 or Peggy Kolesar at 851-7206.

Campfire Girls Annual Mother-Daughter Banquet

There were 267 at dinner, Monday evening in the Tewksbury-Wilmington Elks Hall, and most of them were either Campfire Girls or their mothers, from Wilmington. It was the annual Mother-Daughter banquet.

The invocation was by the Rev. Richard Evans of the Wilmington Methodist Church and the introduction of guests by Catherine Piretti. New officers were introduced by Christine Baptiste. Entertainment was by Vincent Luminelli of Chelmsford, a magician.

Door prizes had been donated by Wilmington and Tewksbury business firms including: MacDonald's of Tewksbury, North Wilmington Pharmach, DeCrosta's Flowers, Rocco Restaurant, Mancinnis' Radio Shack, Dunkin Donuts, Bicycle Depot.

Ross Paint and Paper, O'Toole's Flowers, Maple Meadow Gardens, Jack-in-the-Box, Ski Haus, and Sweetheart Plastics

"Oklahoma" June 11 and 12

The Wilmington Spotlighters have chosen their cast for the famous musical comedy "Oklahoma" which will be presented at Wilmington High School Barrows auditorium on June 11 and 12.

Tewksbury's Norm DeMarais will portray Curley, the ardent and optimistic cowboy who attempts to win the admiration of his sweetheart, Laurey, played by Joanne Mirras.

Trixie Lenzi, well-known for her portrayal of Gooch in the Spotlighters' recent production of "Mame" will take the part of Ado Annie, the "Girl Who Can't Say No." Jim Murray will be her exuberant suitor, Will Parker.

Al Sheldon (Ali Hakim) will be seen as the comically slippery Persian peddler; Jerry Peters (Jud) as the menacing, villainous hired hand; and Marie Masse (Aunt Eller) as the heroine's wise aunt.

Also in the cast are: Tom Martell as Ike Skidmore, Mike Lane as Slim, George Spering as Andrew Carnes, Doub Sievert as Cord Elam, Jane Martell as Gertie, Kim Murdock as Ellen, Denise Castonguay as Virginia, Susan Fall as Vivienne, Donna Arsenault as Fay and Emy Krzesawski as Aggie. Ballet counterparts for Laurey, Curley and Jud will be Elaine DePasquale, Mike Lane

Spinelli, Tony DeLuca, Nick DeFelice, and Si Cutter.

THE BENJAMIN BUCK HOUSE: At Buck's Corner, is the oldest house in Wilmington and dates back to 1671. The picture shows it as it appeared half a dozen years ago, before repairs.

Buck House

promised. It made things embarrassing for the church members. It was about this time that George Eames was not elected a Deacon, and he left to start another church. Mrs. Hiller left too, and that was when she became a Methodist.

So Benjamin Buck went to his secret hiding place, and took out $5000, and paid off the bill for building that steeple. Maybe the sum wasn't $5000, but that was what the writer heard, many years ago.

And, as security, Benjamin Buck took a mortgage on the parsonage. A few months later he gave the parsonage back to the church. But there was a codicil in that deed.

If ever the Congregational Church of Wilmington stops using that parsonage as a home for the Minister and his family, then it will revert to the Buck family.

Which, perhaps, adds to the number of reasons why the Congregationalists of Wilmington like to have a Pastor, to minister to their spiritual needs and wants. When Benjamin died he left more money to the church, and his probably grand nephew, Jonathan H. was, of course, the man who was later known as John Henry.

Darius Buck, who was probably John H.'s grandfather, was another man who left money to the church.

Today one would look at those sums of money that were left as being not quite princely, but in that day and age they were in good hard cash - or should one say Bucks!

There were approximately 175 persons who attended the Diabetes clinic, Sunday, in Wilmington High School, and about the same number at the Glaucoma clinic.

Both were busy, from the time they opened at 9:30 to 1:30 p.m. Diabetes Clinic was sponsored by the Wilmington Women's Club and the Glaucoma Clinic was sponsored by the Wilmington Lions Club, with members of both organizations taking an active part.

Both were in charge of the Wilmington Board of Health.

PAUL DINEEN: Of 11 Dorothy Ave., Wilmington has been named to the Dean's List for the second consecutive semester at Northeastern University.

Paul, a management computer systems major, attained this honor by achieving a grade-point average of 4.0 on a scale of 4.0.

THE EXTENDED ARM: Is a part of the testing procedure. Nick DeFelice, an official of the Lions Club, is having his eyes examined by Army Capt. William Boger of Winchester.
